Welcome to the Alpine church of Christ

August 15, 2021

Ordinary people serving an extraordinary God.

*What is all this deep thinking and planning all about?
See inside this bulletin.*

Vacation Bible School is August 22 at 4 p.m. Contact Kayla if you would like to be involved.

For months Alpine church members have been planning next week's Vacation Bible School! This week the auditorium will transform into the backdrop for a lesson on faith through the fiery furnace encounter described in Daniel. How are you helping?

Follow-up to next week's VBS lesson

August 29:

Lesson 1: Deborah—Trusting God when life seems overwhelming

September 05:

Lesson 2: Isaiah—Trusting God through bad news

September 12:

Lesson 3: Peter and the Disciples—Trusting God in the midst of the storm

September 19:

Lesson 4: The Woman who was Bleeding—Trusting God is taking risks despite the pain

September 26:

Lesson 5: Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego—Trusting God no matter the outcome

INDIAN LODGE TRAIL, Davis Mountains State Park

A fun hike that is just outside of Fort Davis, the Indian Lodge Trail in Davis Mountains State Park, is about 2 and half miles in length. The rocky, steep in sections, yet still moderate trail offers uninterrupted vistas of the surrounding high desert ranch land, including views of the McDonald Observatory to the north, and Blue Mountain and Mount Livermore to the west – the latter being the highest point in the Davis Mountains. Be sure to wear proper footwear and clothing for the desert, and bring plenty of water, as the trail is mostly unprotected from the sun. Follow the Park Road to the trail's namesake Indian Lodge to the parking lot behind the hotel. Here, you will find the trailhead. It's best to treat the Indian Lodge Trail as an "out an back", as the trail does not loop back to the parking lot. The Indian Lodge Trail at Davis Mountains State Park is about 30 miles away from the Alpine Church of Christ building, and is an easy day trip from Alpine and Marfa. JW

As a weekly contributor, Joe Ed Waggoner (JW) seeks to highlight unique, family-oriented Big Bend opportunities to experience the magnificence of God's creation.
