CDRI Clayton Overlook

CDRI's main goal is dedicated to the research and preservation of the natural resources of the surrounding Chihuahuan Desert, with many opportunities for education. They have geological, cultural, and historical exhibits on display, with bird blinds, botanical gardens, and several miles of hiking trails available. A favorite is the moderate Clayton's Overlook Trail, which is about a mile and half loop up to a natural observation point. Once at the top, take in views of Blue Mountain, Mount Livermore, and the town of Fort Davis, refresh your geology knowledge with an illustrated guide, or just sit in silence enjoying the scenery at the conveniently placed bench. CDRI is about 5 miles outside of Fort Davis on HWY 118, and about a 20-minute drive from the Alpine Church of Christ building. They are open 12:30pm to 5pm on Sundays, and every other day (except Wednesday) from 9am to 5pm.

As a weekly contributor, Joe Ed Waggoner (JW) seeks to highlight unique, family-oriented Big Bend opportunities to experience the magnificence of God's creation.

College-age students continue studying God's Word on Monday evenings. We are happy to have Chris back, and a very special welcome home goes to Cali Porter, a new Sul Ross student.
