Ordinary people serving an extraordinary God.

Sending CARE packages tomorrow morning

We have 5 college students at Sul Ross and 4 students at other colleges. Today we will finish filling our CARE boxes. Tomorrow 3 boxes will be sent via USPS (Cali, Valeria, Kayla/Joe). 5 boxes will be taken to the Sul Ross dorms. Interested in helping deliver boxes to the dorms? Contact Carol or Curtis.

New Wednesday night study! The People are the Temple.

The New Testament writers continue to use temple language, but they are no longer concerned with a building. Incredibly, when they write about the temple, they talk about the people of God! The apostle Paul writes, “do you not know that your body is a Temple of the Holy Spirit within you” (I Cor. 6:9-12).

At face value, this could be mistaken as an individualistic idea. However, in English we don’t have a grammatically correct way to differentiate between a singular “you” and a plural “you all.” Suffice it to say, all of the ‘yous’ in this text are actually second person plurals. That means we should read Paul’s words as, “y’all’s body is a temple of the Holy Spirit.” There are some immense implications here, both for the early church and us today. The Bible Project

Growing in the grace and knowledge of our Lord on Wednesday nights

Are you “in” or “out” of the habit of meeting with fellow Christians on Wednesday nights? If “in”, then you met five new fellow believers that have begun meeting with us on Wednesday nights. Wouldn’t you love to help encourage these new visitors? Routines are hard to establish, so just come enjoy fellowship this next Wednesday night at 6:00 p.m. in the annex.

Every journey begins the same way, a first step.
