"You Were Worth It"

A professor of mine shared a story of when he found himself on a flight sitting next to a military veteran and his wife. The man had served the US Navy as a pilot for 21 years. The interaction was aptly timed around Veteran's Day, but my professor is the type to express his thanks to our veterans regardless of the occasion. At the end of their flight, my professor remarked, "Thank you for your service." He was floored by the man's response. "You were worth it." What a humbling perspective! How often do we view the selfless offerings of others in the context of our worthiness to receive them? The comforts we are afforded today are often met with entitled attitudes and ungrateful hearts that we ourselves would likely be hesitant to make sacrifices for. It is unfortunate that so many sleep beneath the blanket of these comforts and yet still take for granted what was given to provide it.

There is no greater imbalance of a gift's worth and our worthiness to receive it than that of Jesus' sacrifice and our sinful standing before God. Feeling unworthy comes easily when we consider the sacrifice of Jesus, who gave himself up to cover the penalty of our sin knowing we could not possibly live in a way that repays Him for that offering. May we ever be grateful that Jesus did this for us:

"God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God." 2 Corinthians 5:21

Jesus considered us worth the price. In His eyes, mankind was worth the sacrifice despite every ignorant moment in which our thoughts and actions lose sight of the overwhelming love Jesus poured out for us at Calvary. May we never forget this and daily aim our lives towards being worthy of His sacrifice, because in His eyes, "we were worth it".

"As a prisoner in the Lord, then, I urge you to walk in a manner worthy of the calling you have received." Ephesians 4:1
